

Projects completed in The Netherlands

Page 5
News!

Page 6
Tree book

Page 8
2003 Tree
of the year

Page 10
Conifers

Page 12
Large consignments

Page 13
Planting
instructions

Page 14
Passion
for nature

Page 15
The network /
the projects

Page 27
Assortment

Page 31
Contact persons

Keukenhof

The Oranje Paviljoen (Orange Pavilion) is a section of the Keukenhof. We supplied many of the trees in this project. The project was created in several phases. The first phase began around four years ago. This involved planting native Oak (Quercus robur) to create the primary structure. This was followed by section planting, containing a number of varieties, including Taxus baccata.

The large Pollarded Plane Trees (Platanus acerifolia) directly in front of the pavilion are very striking. Using these larger sizes makes it look as if the new Oranje Paviljoen has been there for many years. It immediately gives the location a very mature look.

Taxus baccata (Keukenhof)

Height	10 - 15 (20) m
Crown	ovoid to round, irregular
Bark and branches	bark thin and brownish red, flaking, deep grooves
Leaf	needles, deep dark green, 1.5 - 3 cm
Flower	unremarkable, dioecious, Y yellow buds, X green
Fruits	brownish black seeds, covered 4/5 with a fleshy, red case
Application	solitary, for shaped clipping and hedges

