

Municipality of Tilburg

In the spring of 2006, 20 tree containers containing Liquidambar styraciflua 'Worplesdon' were placed in the Koningsplein in Tilburg. Both the trees and the stainless steel containers were supplied by Van den Berk Boomkwekerijen. The Tilburg municipal council wanted to give this square a greener look, but this greenery also had to be movable in order to make way for events. Mobile tree boxes were the chosen solution. They are simple to move with a pallet wagon. Liquidambar styraciflua 'Worplesdon' in size 35-40 was chosen because it thrives in boxes. During a visit to the nursery, the decision was made to opt for trees with branches instead of tall trunks.
