

Old farm recondition and restored

Van den Berk Boomkwekerijen started using the new warehouse last year. The enormous building also houses the offices. The old farm that formerly housed the offices has recently been converted into a beautiful space with various meeting rooms. Here is an impression of the new appearance of this historic farm.

