

A collection of 18 circular icons arranged in four rows. The first row has two green circles with white symbols: a flower and a cloud with rain. The second row has five circles: brown (horizontal stripes), black with white grid (umbrella), brown with white dots (rain), grey with white flower (moon), and blue with white snowflake. The third row has six circles: light green with white flower (cloud), light green with white flower (sun), white with grey house (house), green with white tree (tree), light grey with green leaf (leaf), and light grey with green plant (plant). The fourth row has three purple circles with white symbols: a skull and crossbones, a heart with a slash, and a heart with a slash.

A densely branched, spherical shrub, that when grafted on stock (C. bignonioides), can grow into a small, flat-topped, spherical tree. Depending on the graft union the height will be 2 - 2.5 m. The crown becomes circa 6 - 7 m wide. It is a slow growing tree. The grey brown, shallow fissured bark peels in plates and the hard wood of the twigs breaks easily. The acuminate and entire, heart-shaped leaf appears late in spring and is shed relatively early. It is considerably smaller and narrower than the species. When bruised a distinct smell is emitted. In autumn it turns yellow. Shallow rooting with fleshy roots. The tree can be pruned vigorously every few years to encourage the crown. Widely applied in small gardens, on squares and roundabouts.
